Annual Rotary Club Pancake Breakfast to include Food Drive Sat., March 7th

As part of its Annual Pancake Breakfast on Saturday, March 7, the Augusta Rotary Club will host a Food Drive on behalf of the Bracken County Food Pantry.

Donations of non-perishable food items will be accepted to help stock the shelves of the County Food Pantry at Brooksville Baptist Church.

Food items to build a nutritious meal are requested, including cans of soup, beans, and vegetables. Tuna, pasta, cornbread mix, macaroni and cheese are also needed.

Monetary donations to the Food Pantry will be accepted. A donation of $10 will enable the Food Pantry to provide up to 4 boxes of food with each box designed to provide enough for 3-4 days.

For about 20 years, the Bracken County Food Pantry has been run by the Brooksville Baptist Church to provide food for needy residents of Bracken County. Hours to receive non-perishable items are the first Thursday and the third Tuesday of every month from 6:00-7:30 p.m. Perishable items also are available at the Food Pantry at noon on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Food Pantry Manager Tim Boyd advised that each recipient must be a resident of Bracken County and may receive a single box of a variety of non-perishable food items each month. Food boxes are available for both needy senior citizens and families.

According to Brooksville Baptist Church Pastor Tony Cox, "We serve about 200 households per month, but many people who need food don't know about the pantry or won't avail themselves of our resources. As a result, we know that there are children in our county who may go to bed hungry for lack of a bowl of soup."

The food drive for the Bracken County Food Pantry will be held in conjunction with the Augusta Rotary Club's Annual Pancake Breakfast at the Augusta School Cafeteria on Saturday, March 7 from 7 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. Donated food items may be dropped off at the Rotary Trailer which will be parked in front of the school cafeteria entrance. Monetary donations may be given inside at the ticket desk.

Augusta Rotary Club President Tay Kelsch noted that the Pancake Breakfast is always a popular event every year and for $5 everyone can get a hearty breakfast of pancakes, bacon or sausage, eggs and juice. "The Food Pantry serves those who may not have a good meal at times, so the Augusta Rotary Club thought that having a food drive along with our pancake breakfast could raise awareness and collect some items that are needed."

The Augusta Rotary Club is a non-profit organization that brings together business and civic leaders to develop service projects that benefit the community and help build goodwill.

Girls 39th District play started Monday evening, February 23rd with the Bracken County Lady Bears taking on the Augusta Lady Panthers at the Mason County Fieldhouse. First to score in the game was Augusta. The Lady Bears and Lady Panthers played close allowing only 4 points per team in the first quarter. Second quarter play opened up and found the Lady Bears ahead 15-13 at the half.

Bracken was the first score in the third quarter and would lead the game 27-23 going into the fourth quarter. The fourth quarter found Bracken unable to make shots and the quarter would end tied at 32 all taking the Lady Bears and Lady Panthers into overtime.

Overtime play would be point for point as each team was unwilling to give up. Jerrica Kelsch of Augusta was the first to score as she hit a foul shot. Cassidy Collins of Bracken County answered with two foul shots of her own. Olivia Rolph of Augusta then countered with a 2 point shot followed by a foul shot by Bracken's Kinley Ruf to tie the game at 35 all with 16.7 seconds left. Her next foul shot gave Bracken the lead. Paige McCord of Augusta tied it 36 all with 10 seconds left. Bailey Cummins' foul shot gave Bracken the lead 37-36 with 8.1 seconds left. But Jerrica Kelsch quenched the win and bragging rights in the cross county rivalry for Augusta with her two point shot making it 38-37 Augusta.

Augusta will advance to the 39th District finals this Thursday, February 26th. They will face the winner of Tuesday night's Mason County Lady Royals and St. Pat Lady Saints game. This will be Augusta's first trip to the 39th District finals since the 2005-2006 season where they lost 55-79 to Mason County. They went on to fall 34-64 in the first round of the 10th Region Tournament to Bishop Brossart who went on to lose 32-51 to Montgomery County.

Augusta Head Coach Rebecca Arnold told Panther column writer, Matt McCane, "I'm just so happy for these girls, they've worked so hard. We will celebrate this one tonight but then it's back to work tomorrow."

High scorer for Augusta was Paige McCord with 14 followed by Olivia Rolph - 8, Jerrica Kelsch - 7, Samantha Kennard - 5, and Dana Garrett - 4.

Bracken was led by Bailey Cummins with 13, followed by Cassidy Collins - 8, Madison Kalb - 4, Macy Jefferson - 3, McKenzie Jefferson - 3, and Kara Jones - 2.

HMH awarded accreditation from The Joint Commission

Harrison Memorial Hospital announced that it has earned The Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval[®] for hospital accreditation by demonstrating continuous compliance with its performance standards. The Gold Seal of Approval[®] is a symbol of quality that reflects an organization's commitment to providing safe and effective patient care. HMH has maintained this tradition of accreditation since 1973.

Harrison Memorial Hospital underwent a rigorous, unannounced on-site survey in November 2014. During the review, a team of Joint Commission expert surveyors evaluated compliance with hospital standards related to several areas, including emergency management, environment of care, infection prevention and control, leadership, and medication management.

Surveyors also conducted on-site observations and interviews.

The Joint Commission has accredited hospitals for more than 60 years. More than 4,000 general, children's, long-term acute, psychiatric, rehabilitation and specialty hospitals currently maintain accreditation from The Joint Commission, awarded for a three-year period. In addition, approximately 360 critical access hospitals maintain accreditation through a separate program.

The Joint Commission's hospital standards are developed in consultation with health care experts and providers, measurement experts, and patients. The standards are informed by scientific literature and expert consensus to help hospitals measure, assess and improve performance.

Looking Back

(Editor's Note: Based on the History of Bracken County)

(Conclusion)

By the Late W. T. Breeze

On September 7, 1862, General Basil Duke rode into Augusta with a battalion of Morgan's Cavalry and was attacked from the houses by hastily assembled or drafted homeguards. Many buildings were burned and the names of many prominent families appear among the dead.

In the eighties of that century came a trunk line railway that added greatly to transportation facilities.

In 1908 came again the echo of cavalry hoofs, the night riders of the tobacco war. Country buying of the crop eased, loose leaf markets became the popular sales method that soon were moved to central markets in larger towns.

The county increased in years 1800 to 1900 from a population of 2,000 to more than 14,000, only to lose more than one third to the cities in the last four decades. Highways have been built to all points of the compass. One main highway parallels the north bank of the Ohio with bright promise on a like roadway on the south bank in the near future.

For a century and a half, it has been a city of happy homes, schools and churches and has the only public library in the county, the gift of one of its boyhood citizens. Its banking, industrial and mercantile institutions are good.

May its seventeen hundred citizens continue to prosper in this time of worldwide confusion—fortunately less here than across the seas, so they can say with Frank Stanton in the dark days of the South's reconstruction after the civil war:

"This world we're living in is mighty hard to beat, we get a thorn with every rose, but ain't the roses sweet."

School districts join FAFSA-completion effort

Nearly half of the school districts in Kentucky will participate in a new program to increase the number of students who complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, or FAFSA.

The FAFSA is a major step in going to college because it is the form used to apply for federal and state student aid programs. The more financial aid students receive, the more likely they are to attend and finish college.

The program was established by the U.S. Department of Education.

A very special thank you to his mother, brother, sister-in-law, aunt and nephew for flying home the second time to be with us.

A huge thank you to Primary Plus & staff for their care and concern. Thank you Kathy Bishop and Amy Bradford, also thank you ladies in front office for loving us.

Dr. Neus thank you for allowing us to be a part of your family, for the beautiful and touching service, not just for one of your patients but for your dear friend. It was perfect as was the poem at the committal service. Also for all your visits to Vic while he was home and for taking care of me while I was sick at his bedside. This we will never forget and you will always be in our prayers.

Thank you Moore & Parker for making this difficult time a little easier to bear and for the calls to keep checking on me and our family.

To the pallbearers for sharing your time with us, each of you are special to us and more importantly to Vic. Thank you.

A loving thank you to our children and their friends for taking time away from their careers to take such good care of me and staying with me and sitting up with Vic in this very hard and difficult time of our lives. I love you everyone.

Once again for all the prayers that held us together. May God bless each and everyone of you all the days of your lives.

Eye to Eye

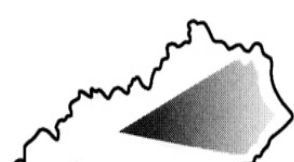

with David Blandford, M.D.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR REMAINING VISION

When eyeglasses, contact lenses, medications, or surgery fail to provide the degree of visual competence needed to perform everyday tasks, a person is said to be experiencing "low vision." This condition, which is most common among those over the age of 65, can result from eye diseases, health conditions, birth defects, and Other causes. Regardless of cause, after a careful evaluation by an eye doctor that includes a comprehensive dilated eye exam, a program of vision rehabilitation can help those with low vision make the most of the vision they have left. This includes training for magnifying and adaptive devices, ways to complete daily living skills safely and independently, and guidance on home modification.

The examination for low vision differs from a typical eye examination. We'd be happy to schedule a personal consultation for you to see if this kind of examination would be beneficial for you. You can reach us at 606.759.7883 or 800.658.7282. At KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE, we're currently accepting new patients. If you have any questions or suggestions, please let us hear your concerns so that we may better serve you. We're located at 1937 Old Main St., Suite 1, Old Washington. We specialize in "EYE CARE FOR ALL AGES."

P.S. Common types of low vision include loss of central vision, loss of side (peripheral) vision, blurred vision, generalized haze, extreme light sensitivity, and night blindness.

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

CULTIVATE A SENSE OF LEISURE

I know that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to do good while they live. That each of them may eat and drink, and find satisfaction in all their toil—this is the gift of God. Ecclesiastes 3:12-13

Work and Productivity may be important, but they aren't the only important things in life, or even the most important things in life. Most of us would probably agree that God and our family should come before our job, and that the whole point of work is to help us support ourselves and our families. A much neglected area of many people's lives today is leisure. We are so busy with work and the workaday aspects of life (e.g., cooking, cleaning, etc.) that we don't find time for play. Play can be anything from playing catch with your children to enjoying music to playing games. The arts are also an important aspect of leisure, and simply going to a museum or to the movies can be a nice break from the monotony of our work lives. Children are often better at playing than adults, so you might just let the kids decide on the playtime activity. Try something you haven't tried before. Throw a Frisbee or make up a new game. Put on a play with your family or friends, or play a guessing game. There is no end to the ways in which we might enjoy our leisure time. —Christopher Simon

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI

by Les Grooms, pastor
Augusta Presbyterian

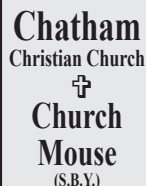

"The trumpet of a prophecy! O Wind, if winter comes, can spring be far behind". These words come from the writing of Shelley and it comes to my mind while we are having all of this bad weather. This too shall pass and before we know it, we will be complaining about the hot weather and the mowing of grass.

We did not have church Sunday because of the bad weather.

Monday night we will have soup supper if the weather allows. Wednesday the Lenten Service will be in the Presbyterian Church and I do not plan to cancel it unless the weather makes the roads impassable. Friday I will be in the fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church from 10-12 noon to assist those who need food and possibly help with utility bills. If you need help with a utility bill, bring the bill with you and also bring some form of identification. On Friday night at 7:00 we plan to be at the revival at the Brooksville United Methodist Church. Come and join us.

I will be available on Friday mornings from 10-12 noon in the Presbyterian Church's fellowship hall and Monday nights during the soup supper which is normally from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. I will not be available any other times. This aid is given by the Augusta Ministerial Association and is for those in need in the Augusta area.

Try to attend the Lenten service at the Presbyterian Church because I have been given the assurance that we will have roast pork, mashed potatoes, and wonderful desserts. Other food will probably be available. My sermon will be only about ten minutes in length.

On this Sun., Feb. 22, Chatham, like many churches, did not have services due to all the SNOW and cold temperatures. Praying that everyone is safe and warm.

Next Sun., Mar. 1 - we will be having an ordination service. Special guests will be Bro. Bob & Mary Cannon and Adam & Lisa McElfresh. We will have a potluck meal following our services... weather permitting. You are welcome to join us for this special occasion.

Mar. 8 - Time change. Move forward 1 hour.

Keep in prayer: Sandy & Albert Blevins, Carl Dickson (had back surgery last week), Butch & Gay Sutton, Gracie Hurst & family, Darrin Young (test & awaiting total knee replacement), Wayne Brockley, Ruby Shields (back surgery last week), Ronnie Harrison, Ronnie & Sharon King, Sammy Linville (cardioversion of heart due to atrial fib and was placed on medication to control rhythm. Regular heart rhythm now and is out of hospital), Bobby Cummins, Susan Gerhard, Charity Sparks, and always each other.

A very special hello from the church mouse to Breanna Haas. She is the 11 yr. old daughter of Eddie Haas and Dina McDowell. She is in the 5th grade. Bre has been cheering since the 2nd grade and she cheers for the "Kiddie Kats" at Augusta. Besides cheering, she enjoys archery, music, volleyball (she would like to try this next year). One of her favorite subjects is math. She is the granddaughter of Larry & Mary Jo Haas and Sue & Mark Hardymon. She occasionally comes to Chatham with her grandparents and father. Breanna, so SORRY for the mistake last week. The mouse will try and do better.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF AUGUSTA

by Rita Bradford

Hello & God's Blessings from The First Baptist Church of Augusta. Our Sunday services were canceled due to the weather. However the hymn "Whiter Than Snow" comes to mind this week. Before all the snow everything was so drab & dreary, but the snow comes & everything turns so pretty & white, it looks so perfect. It makes me wonder if this is the way God sees us. As sinners we appear drab & dreary, but once we've been washed in the blood of our Lord Jesus, we appear whiter than snow.

We invite you to come and let Jesus brighten up your world. Sunday School Classes are 9:30 a.m. This week's lesson is titled "The Lamb of God". This lesson will help you to share your experiences with Jesus, by letting others know how Jesus has changed your life. Our Sunday Morning Worship begins 10:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Services begin 6 p.m.

BROOKSVILLE CHRISTIAN

by John Elfers

Despite the inclement weather, we had a great service Sunday! Ron reviewed the first seven lessons on being a Real Christian. 1. Generosity, 2. Courage, 3. Joy, 4. Faith, 5. Hope, 6. Grace, 7. Love. The good news is that if you missed anything, this week we conclude with how Real Christians use these gifts, these tools, in our every day lives. Please join us Sunday morning 10:45 a.m.

If you have any questions concerning Brooksville Christian, or perhaps have a prayer request, contact our minister Ron Moser 606-735-3123 or our youth minister Shane Hunt 606-375-8419. You can also email at brooksvillechristianchurch@windstream.net.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

by Barbara Browning

I believe I have seen enough snow to last my lifetime-- I am not a lover of snow (maybe on the grass, but not on the roads). Most churches in the area cancelled Sunday services. We were included in that list.

As far as news, we will have an Ordination service March 1, for John Smith, as Elder. Also, it is another planning meeting after worship service for our Ladies Day on the Ridge.

That afternoon, 4-8 p.m. is a Benefit at the Plum Creek Christian Church for Teresa Logan Rick and her son, Jake, who had a terrible car accident last September. Lots of games, food, music, entertainment, etc.

March 8 is a skating party for anyone to Charley's Roller Rink, in Harrison County. Cost is $4, 4:30-6:30 p.m.

"Night With Carol" is March 21, 6:30 p.m. with a pot-luck meal, then watch episodes of Carol Burnett. This is for everyone!!

Congratulations to Troy and Emily Johnson Braunstein upon the birth of "Eira Ann" born February 14. Proud grandparents are Doug and Patty Johnson. (Troy is a former OCC Youth

Happy 75th Birthday, Papa!

King highlighted as one the "People You Should Know" in Scott County

Miss Alex King was recently highlighted in the Georgetown News-Graphic's People You Should Know section for her participation in the Actor's Playhouse of Georgetown's presentation of "The Story of the Nutcracker".

In her printed interview, Alex said she enjoyed soccer and acting and her dream job was to be an actress. While she has eclectic tastes in tv, movies, and books she has typical preteen tastes in clothes, movies and food. She considers herself a free spirit because she does things her way. Her favorite phrase sums her attitude and dream job up nicely, "Life isn't measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away."

Alex is the 12 year old daughter of Mark and Mitzi King. She is a student at Scott County Middle School and has two siblings Matthew and Landyn. She is the granddaughter of Louie and Evelyn King of Brooksville.

Bracken County High School FFA

Celebrates National FFA Week: February 21-28, 2015

Did you know? Each year, FFA chapters around the country celebrate National FFA Week. The week-long tradition began in 1947 when the National FFA Board of Directors designated the week of George Washington's birthday as National FFA Week in recognition of his legacy as an agriculturist and farmer. The first National FFA Week was held in 1948. Today, FFA Week always runs Saturday to Saturday and encompasses Feb. 22, Washington's birthday.

National FFA Week did not start out as a week-long event. At first it was National FFA Day. The 1933 National FFA Convention proceedings records the beginning of FFA Day in this way: "Stewart of Montana requested the floor at this time to present a matter of general interest. He suggested the idea of having a special Future Farmer Day some time during 1934, preferably on one of the regular national FFA broadcasting days. It was pointed out that the various state associations could perhaps plan special state broadcasts also on that day and that chapters might plan their father and son banquets on the date specified. The idea seemed to meet with general delegate approval and after some discussion it was moved by Stewart that the Board of Trustees arrange for such a day; motion passed."

Educate and advocate! National FFA Week is an opportunity for FFA members, alumni and sponsors to advocate for agricultural education and FFA. It's a time to share with local, state and national audiences what FFA is and the impact it has on members every day.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! Wow! What a blast of winter! Last week's cold and snow reminded us of just Who is in charge! You all experienced it, so we don't have to go over the details, but we sincerely hope and pray that all are doing well and enjoying the sunshine of this Monday! Safety was the key word for any type of travel last week as the declaration of a Level 3 Snow Emergency demonstrated! Even though the emergency is over, it is imperative that anytime you will be driving in this weather, that you dress for an emergency, making sure that you have gloves, scarves, boots and a blanket readily available! It is far better in these situations to be safe rather than sorry! Schools are back in session and with below freezing temperatures predicted for the remainder of the week, this snow is not going anywhere so please drive "ahead", making sure there is plenty of room for you and any school buses that you may encounter!

Trailers will be emptied this week as conditions improve. Without the mechanical aid of 4WD, in some instances we simply can't get to the trailer for hook-up. We must ask for your help and cooperation during these unusual circumstances. If you do make it to a trailer and it is full, please do not put the recycling on the snow piles around the trailers. As we have stated before, recycling material on the outside of the trailers is an invitation to the wind, rain, snow, sleet and any other inclement weather conditions to destroy any good intentions of the recycler. Wet recycling is useless and blowing recycling becomes litter! Recycling is a most important and necessary action and we appreciate everyone who practices this great habit; but with that being said, we must have your cooperation in order for your efforts and our efforts to make a positive impact on the environment!

On Sunday evening we had the opportunity to watch the CBS Special memorializing their late and great news reporter, Bob Simon. All of his stories were most interesting, but the one we found absolutely fascinating was about the Landfill Harmonic Orchestra of Cateura, Paraguay in Latin America. This slum town is literally surrounded by a landfill where 1,500 tons of garbage are deposited each day. The 2,500 families that call this landfill home are among the poorest of poor where many paths lead home to drugs and violence. In order to keep the kids out of gangs, a local musician, Favio Chavez, started up a youth orchestra, but due to their extreme poverty none of the young members could afford a musical instrument. As a matter of fact, a violin would be worth more than the area homes and an item that would be readily stolen and sold for drug money.

Mr. Chavez then enlisted the services of Nicholas Gomez, a local garbage picker and together they began experimenting with musical instruments made from what else but the trash that surrounded the town! These two used discarded water pipes, keys, paint cans, forks, knives and every type of trash imaginable to create violins, flutes, saxophones and drums! If you Google "Landfill Harmonic Orchestra" you Bracken County Chamber of Commerce visits Clopay Corp.

The Bracken County Chamber of Commerce had the February meeting at Clopay Corporation in Augusta. The meeting was hosted by the new plant manager Hope Reeves and George Jump and Ashley Sharp of the Human Resource Department. Also in attendance was Gracie Kurtz and Autumn Bishop, pictured below, from the Bracken County High School FBLA. They presented a very interesting program on social media.

The Chamber feels that Clopay is a very important part of the community and employs approximately 350 people from Bracken and surrounding counties. The group learned about the operation and the items manufactured.

Mr. Jump, pictured above, gave the group an opportunity to tour the plant which was very educational.

will be delighted with the performance! This group is touring all over the world and excess money is used to make no-interest loans to the families for home improvements. Due to the efforts of many people, there is hope for these folks and environmental lessons to be learned. May we joyfully RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Stay warm and be seen' you - Bin & Bug.

Frost Seeding

By: David Appelman, CEA
Ag and Natural Resources

The frost seeding method allows seeds to be interseeded into undisturbed soils by scattering seed on top of the ground. The freezing and thawing action of the soil works the seeds into the soil where they can germinate. In Kentucky, the ideal time to frost seed is between February 10 and March 1, with mid-February preferred. It is important to consider what forage species can be successfully frost seeded. Seeding red and white clover is recommended using this method. While it is possible to frost seed some grass species, it is typically less successful and generally not recommended. Using this technique can reduce machine use and seeding cost. It is also beneficial as it can be done at times when utilizing heavy machinery would damage pastures such as extremely wet periods. Individual pasture characteristics should also be considered when deciding if frost seeding will be successful on your farm.

Seeding nitrogen-fixing legumes into existing grass stands will reduce nitrogen fertilizer costs and can increase pasture yields and quality. Frost seeding legumes can be very successful when performed correctly using the best suited species. Red and white clovers are the most commonly used and establish well with frost seeding. Birdsfoot trefoil is another option and is often frost seeded in a mix with red clover. This non-bloating legume can be slow to establish and is often sparse until the second year. After established, this long-lived perennial legume has been shown to produce a healthy stand for 10 or more years. Annual lespedeza is another legume sometimes seeded using this low input method. This warm-season, non-bloating legume is fairly drought tolerant and will be very productive when cool-season forages are suffering from "summer slump." It is not recommended to frost seed alfalfa because of highly inconsistent results.

Few grass species have been proven to be effective when frost seeded. In trials, perennial ryegrass and annual (Italian) ryegrass are the only grasses which established well enough to be a reasonable option when using this method. Orchardgrass has been somewhat successful under favorable conditions but frost seeding orchardgrass is not a suggested practice. It is recommended to drill most grass species for maximum success.

It is necessary to follow basic seeding and management guidelines for successful frost seeding. Having seed-to-soil contact is vital. Reduce the vegetative cover on the area to be seeded to allow more seed to reach the soil surface. Broadcasted seed needs to fall directly onto the soil surface in order to be worked into the soil through the freeze-thaw action that will occur. This can be accomplished by heavy grazing in the late fall and early winter or by mowing area to a low height prior to seeding. It may be more difficult to expose sufficient soil in existing stands of sod forming grasses.

Reducing competition from existing forages and weeds is also crucial for successful seeding. Similar to creating seed-to-soil contact, grazing or mowing closely will reduce competition. In the spring, weed pressure may increase and weeds may need to be controlled by management methods or by herbicide application to allow seedlings to establish. It is important to remember that existing clovers will be killed by herbicide applications. Be sure to read herbicide labels and follow recommended waiting periods before seeding clovers or grazing animals.

Although bloat may be an issue when grazing some legumes, a stand mixed with non-bloating legumes and grasses will reduce the likelihood of bloat. Basic management to reduce bloat should be followed as described in the UK Extension publication <http://www.ca.uky.edu/agc/pubs/id/id186/id186.pdf>. Adding legumes into existing pastures can benefit soil fertility and provide higher quality feed to livestock. Using the frost seeding method can save money on seeding costs and reduces machinery use. For the latest forage variety test results, stop by our office to get the information you need.

Five ways to save money for spring fishing, turkey hunting

Although the price of a gallon of gas is lower than at any time in recent memory, not many folks have extra money to burn.

This is especially true for non-essential things such as fishing reels, shotguns, hunting clothing or fishing waders. Adult commitments such as your mortgage must be paid before any money goes toward a new spinning reel. Obtaining quality hunting and fishing gear inexpensively is a useful skill for outdoors enthusiasts to learn.

Here are five ways to save money on gear for the upcoming spring fishing and turkey hunting seasons.

1. Hit the clearance sales to upgrade fishing equipment: February is the best month to buy new fishing equipment, especially if you want to upgrade to a higher quality rod, reel or finally retire the shop worn waders you've patched 10 times.

Manufacturers debut their new models at this time of year. The large catalog outfitters and the sporting goods section of department stores often offer significant discounts on older models of rods and reels to clear space for the new. This is especially true with fishing reels.

These discounted reels or rods are still new and were the cutting edge a year or two ago. Model changes are often cosmetic and the performance afield is exactly the same from older model to new.

If you are still wading with hot, sticky and leaky neoprene or coated canvas waders, February is the time to upgrade to breathable waders. New fishing catalogs from outfitters are now arriving in mailboxes around the country. Their websites often contain closeout prices on older iterations of breathable fishing waders. This is a great time to get comfortable, breathable waders at attractive prices.

2. Hit the clearance sales to upgrade hunting clothing: After the waterfowl seasons close in late January, department stores and the big retail/catalog outfitters often place cold weather hunting gear on clearance, where savings can be 40 percent or more off the price the previous fall. This is an especially good time to save on waterfowl hunting clothing or coveralls and jacket/bib combinations for deer hunting, both of which aren't cheap. They often clearance leftover lighter weight camouflage shirts and pants as well, perfect gear for the coming spring turkey season.

3. Inquire with friends and relatives about buying their old outdoor gear: As you progress in the outdoor arts, it is normal to upgrade to newer gear every few years as financial circumstances allow. This leaves outdoors enthusiasts with a conundrum: their older gear is too nice to throw away or donate, but they don't use it anymore. They may gladly sell this gear reasonably to a friend or relative and be thankful it will be used and appreciated by someone they know. In the case of outdoor clothing, it may be given to you.

4. Clean and lube a spinning reel to make it new again: If a spinning reel feels like it is slowly filling with sawdust or develops an annoying catch on the retrieve, it is likely not completely shot and needs replacing, but just dirty and starved for lubrication. Old grease and oil attracts dirt and grit over time. This gunk builds up and impacts the reel's performance.

Remove the reel spool and wipe down the spool shaft and apply a light coat of reel oil. Oil the roller bearing on the bail that lays line on the spool. Remove the handle and the screws that hold the side plate (some reels have a decorative plate that covers one of the side plate screws). Gently pry open the side plate. You'll see the main gear in the middle with a roller bearing on top of it. Remove the roller bearing and drop it in rubbing alcohol to dissolve old oil, grease and accumulated crud. Clean the main gear, the drive gear in front of the reel and the worm gear along the bottom with an old tooth brush and hot soapy water. After drying, apply a light coat of reel grease to the gears and apply a few drops of reel oil to the roller bearing. Reassemble the reel and it should sing like new.

5. Buy a used pump shotgun for spring turkey hunting: A turkey hunting shotgun is a utility gun, not a pretty over-and-under for wing or trap shooting. Gun stores often have used pump shotguns for $150 or less. A friend or relative who's hunted for years often has an old pump they would let go of at little cost. Online auction sites have used pumps for bargain prices as well. As long as it functions, the appearance matters little since the first step is covering the gun with camouflage tape, making sure not to interfere with its action in the process. At this price, you can afford to add a red or green rear bead sight. Now, you have an affordable and perfectly functional turkey hunting shotgun. A 12-gauge that can chamber 3-inch magnum shells is best.

Use these tips to save much needed cash in getting the outdoor gear you need. The warm winds of spring are just around the corner.

Sports in Kentucky by Bob Watkins

Kentucky (steam) rolls on,
Murray State too; Rick
Pitino defines Knucklehead

Just when the caterpillar thought the world was ending, he turned into a butterfly.

Twenty-seven wins in, Kentucky's basketball team is less a caterpillar, if it ever was, but, as the world turns to March, the Willie Cauley-Stein-led Wildcats are looking butterfly-ish.

Here's to watching Kentucky's team grow up.

✓ Against Auburn: 25 assists.

✓ Trey Lyles came around a low post pick by Karl Anthony Towns with energy and expectation instead of nonchalance ...

turned into the lane, impeccably timed pass delivered — score and one.

✓ Tyler Ulis' mid-floor no-look assist to Willie Cauley-Stein against Auburn was freshman-of-the-year-worthy.

✓ Devin Booker's shot motion.

✓ Marcus Lee hurdles down the lane ... put-back slam against Auburn ... growing up.

✓ With February wins at Florida, LSU and Tennessee in the books, John Calipari is less hysterical these days, has spent more time inside the coach's box, and looks more worthy of national coach of the year candidacy.

✓ For MVP fans — kids in Big Blue Nation — reasons for optimism that Ulis, Booker and Lee return next season.

✓ Postscript Just wondering: How would Kentucky be different if Kyle Wiltjer was in Lexington instead of Spokane?

PEARL PEARLS ON WILDCATS

Who is more quotable in college hoops than ex-ESPN analyst Bruce Pearl?

“What (Kentucky does) offensively ... pounding it inside, there's nobody in the league who's even close to that.

“They're better shooting the ball from the perimeter. They hunt shots. They want them. If anybody goes zone now, their eyes get big, you know?

Kentucky go unbeaten? “... because of the character and chemistry, I think they certainly can. ... The one thing I would be a little concerned about, if (officials) let (UK) play, which I hope they would in a big game, they should have a real good chance. I would just hate if (officials) suddenly started calling it really different in the tournament.”

UofL's KNUCKLEHEAD

Amazing how Rick Pitino (American Sniper with words?), can explain so much with a single shot. Knucklehead.

That two-year starter senior Chris Jones — 3.7-a-game assist leader and 13.6 points on a 12th ranked team that is NCAA tournament-bound team (and NBA draft chance on the line), would risk confrontation with a hall of fame ball coach, defines Knucklehead.

Is Jones a major loss for Louisville team? Maybe.

Better spin and story line: Opportunity falls into lap of freshman Quentin Snider. Kentucky Mr. Basketball a year ago who withdrew his commit to UofL because he didn't feel enough love from Pitino, gets a promotion.

BRACKETOLOGY

Longest win streaks in college hoops (at this writing) are Kentucky (27) and Murray State (22). When pairings for the NCAA Tournament are posted next month, if Steve Prohm's Racers win the OVC Tournament, history suggests Kentucky and Murray could be first round foes.

CRANK UP CAROUSEL

College basketball's other season is on the horizon. The Coach's Carousel for 2015 is already cranking up and promises to be entertaining.

Prime candidates for movin'-on-up jobs will be UK assistant Kenny Payne and Murray State's Steve Prohm.

Payne's resume' built sitting next to John Calipari at Kentucky since 2010 will make his cell phone ring. Won't be an easy hire however, Payne's pay grade at UK is already a comfy seven figures.

Prohm's record at Murray is beyond exemplary. Stability and consistency, four 21-plus wins, three OVC titles in a row. At 40-years-old, he is prime time to be next Murray State coach to job jump.

Only a coincidence, this intriguing link: Anthony Grant

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2014 and all subsequent years thereafter. Augusta Panthers defeat Bracken County Polar Bears; head to 39th District Finals

The back to back defending 39th district champion Augusta Panthers came into their 39th District Tournament game as an underdog against the Bracken County Polar Bears. This due to the Panthers being without Camryn Snapp and the Polar Bears recent 57-35 win just 10 days ago. The two teams went a couple minutes before anyone scored. Augusta would score the first bucket, then Bracken County tied it. The Polar Bears would then take the lead 4-2. The Panthers would tie it again and take a 7-4 lead on an Owens Crawford three-pointer and they would never look back. Augusta finished the quarter leading, 12-7. Bracken County would outscore the Panthers in the 2nd quarter but that would only close the gap to four at the break, 21-17.

In the 3rd quarter the Panthers would maintain the lead patiently taking their time on each possession and holding on to a 37-31 lead heading to the 4th. In the final period Augusta would go on their biggest run 12-2 that Bracken County tried to stop with a pair of timeouts but neither stopped the Panthers' momentum as they raced to their largest lead, 47-35. Going down the stretch Bracken County hit several shots to close the gap but without timeouts, and the Panthers hitting free throws it was too little too late. Augusta improved to 17-9 and advanced to the district final and 10th region tournament. Nathan Shrader led the Panthers with 14 points.

"So proud of these boys. They worked hard to make this happen," said Coach Hinson, "We needed guys to step up tonight in a big way and they did just that."

Scoring: Shrader 14, Tucker 13, Maddox 12, Crawford 9, Shoemaker 8, and Staggs 1.

The Panthers play Tuesdays winner between the Royals and Saints this Thursday at 8 p.m.

Snow days fun for the young and the young at heart . . .

Kirt and Kinleigh Hamilton enjoyed one of their days away from school to build this 9 ft. tall snowman! It took them two hours to build (with a little help from their dad). They are the children of Royse and Mandie Hamilton, and both are students at Taylor Elementary.

Last week's snow found schools dismissed in the county all week as road crews worked diligently to remove the snow and ice received during not one but three snow events throughout the week. On Wednesday evening into Thursday morning, the county was under a level 3 snow emergency, in which all roadways were closed to non-emergency personnel. Road crews worked throughout the evening and the level was downgraded to a level 2, in which motorists were cautioned to stay off of the roads unless necessary for work. Monday, February 23rd found the snow emergency levels removed and school back in session on a two hour delay. With daytime highs predicted below 32 degrees the rest of the week, and overnight temperatures dipping to below zero, the snow will hang around for the rest of the week and precautions should be taken when traveling and extra time should be allowed to reach destinations safely.
